Volume VII.

FRANKFORT, KY., JULY 26, 1884.

Number 45.

We had a refreshing shower yesterday, but not as much as was needed.

Meers, Crutcher & Starks are advertising their boot and shoe department largely on the fences throughout the country.

A portion of the material for the new printing office has arrived and in a few days we will have the new paper, the Capital.

Officer William H. Williams, of the night police force, was so unfortunate Thursday night as to drop his pistol and shoot himself through the ankle. It is thought the bone was broken but it is hoped amputation will not be necessary.

WHL. Wright, a colored man, went to his home in Craw Thursday night, found the door locked, and Alex. Jackson, also colored in the house with his wife. He kicked the door open and went in when a fight ensued which resulted in Wright shooting the despoiler of his home in the right leg above the knee.

The race for Sheriff in Fayette county is growing red hot, and somebody certainly is doing some tall lying. The Democrats charge the Republican candidate with making certain statements, and swear to it, while he and his friends say that he didn't, and swear to it. One or the other is a little off, sure.

Mrs. Richardson, while coming down the steps at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Abe Gumm, Saturday night, fell and dislocated her left hip. Dr. E. E. Hume was called, reset the limb, and she is doing well. She met with a similar accident several years ago, by which her right hip was broken, and she is still lame from it.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, Democratic candidate for President, is a first cousin of the late Francis L. Cleveland, of Augusta, who represented Bracken county several times in both branches of the Legislature, and married Miss Laura Harlan, of this city, sister of Justice John M. Harlan of the Supreme Court and Mrs. Dr. J. G. Hatchitt, of this city.

Emanuel Baer, post-master at White Sulphur, Scott county, was arrested Thursday morning by Deputy United States Marshal Con. McCarty, charged with robbing the mail, and brought to this city. He was tried the same afternoon before U. S. Commissioner Thos. B. Ford, and the evidence not being sufficient to hold him over he was discharged.

Gen. D. W. Lindsey appeared for the defense and made an able argument.

The training stable of Mr. J. F. Dally, a mile and a half from the city on the Versailles pike, was destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. There were no horses in it at the time, but a buggy, several sets of harness and some feed were burned up. The loss is $900, with $600 insurance in the Kenton. The fire is thought to be the work of an incendiary as Mr. Dally has been sworn in as a Deputy Sheriff, and has made several arrests of noisy parties in his neighborhood lately. The dwelling house was only saved by the timely assistance of the neighbors.

The streets of the city are miserably dirty and need cleaning up badly. We venture the assertion that that portion of St. Clair street between Main and Broadway is cleaned up twice or three times to where any other portion of the city is cleaned once, and it is not because it is any more filthy either. The choicest is raging in Europe and is liable to break out in this country at any time and it will be well for us to be ready for it. We would respectfully call the attention of the City Marshal and City Physician to the matter. It won't do to wait too long. Clean up now.

The Woodford Sun objected to the statement in the ROUNDABOUT, of a few weeks ago, that the Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn neglected the interests of his constituents, because, as that paper expressed it, we "professed to be neutral." We would respectfully call the attention of that paper to the following from the Lexington Transcript, a paper published in a city, which, more than any other, adores the Honorable Joseph, and we believe its political faith is considered orthodox by the Sun:

When Mr. Blackburn mounts the rostrum to address the Lexington Cleveland and Hendricks Club, it will be in order for him to explain just when he will make good his promise to the Chamber of Commerce to give Lexington Government buildings. The glib tongued Joseph should give us some plausible excuse for not keeping his promise.

They tell a right hard joke on the boys in the composing room at the Yeoman office. Several days since a party of visitors to the city were being shown the sights, and among other places of interest they went through the Public Printing office. The ladies of the party supposed it—being a State institution—that the employees were convicts. In the bindery they were nonplused. "Surely these people can't be convicts, they are very respectable looking folks." But on reaching the composing room they exclaimed: "Yes, here they are; what a fearful looking set." They seemed deeply interested in a couple of Toms near the front windows, evidently thinking that from the villainous expression of their countenances that they had been imprisoned for some terrible crime. At the case of the young gentleman from Bardstons they only paused for an instant, casually remarking that he must be in for petty larceny. The men in the job department fairly took their breath; on seeing Tim and Slick they pronounced them "gentlemanly-looking forgers." The climax was reached when they were shown into the inner office. The gentleman who presides there was declared to have an "angelic countenance." They were sure he could have committed no wrong.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

Dr. N. B. Richardson, of London, the noted physician, says when I lie in at night without any alcohol, that is the rest my heart gets. But when you take your wine or grog you do not allow the rest, for the influence of alcohol is to increase the number of strokes, and instead of getting this rest you put in something like 15,000 extra strokes and the result is you rise up very unfit for the next day's work. Yet a number of our physicians recommend it to invalids, especially to the aged, and inform who require more rest as their years increase.

There are 300,000 pledged children in the Juvenile Temperance schools of Massachusetts. The temperance work is the lifting scale for women, and before we can accomplish our heart's desire every woman must give her strength and support to the cause. In other words, the home of the present must save the home of the future.

The object of this Union shall be to educate public sentiment up to the standard of total abstinence, train the young, save the inebriate, and secure the legal prohibition and complete banishment of the liquor traffic. Can all the members of the Union in Frankfort say they have complied with these requirements? Your presence alone at the weekly meetings would at least show your inclination and willingness to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic in the same. Remember you have pledged yourself to do this.

Louisville sent a small delegation to the Pittsburgh Prohibition Convention which met on Wednesday. Could mothers realize the appetite they are creating in their children by using whiskey, wines or any intoxicant in deserts would they tempt them? A mother, when cautioned about the use of it in the way mentioned, replied "oh they don't know what it is." Just think of learning to love the taste of it before knowing what it is or the danger there is in it. Mothers, a great number of drunkards are made in this way. Shun it as you would the plague.

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

APATHY OF THE PEOPLE.

In my last article on this subject I noticed but three causes for this apathy. I wish here to notice a few more. And first I shall arraign our officers. I mean all connected with the common school system.

When a canvass is going on, there are pledges made to do everything for the cause of education; how many of those pledges are fulfilled? It is an easy matter to make a pledge, it is hard to fulfill it. It is an easy matter to sit down in an office furnished by the people's money, and write long voluminous reports on paper furnished from the same source, have them printed at the expense of the people, and at the same time, sent broadcast—where? To those who have paid for them? No, for not one in a hundred of them know of their existence—but from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the lakes to the gulf. And oh, refreshing indeed it must be to that officer, as he lays back in his chair—paid for by the people—and reads the newspaper encomiums upon the great work he has accomplished. Great work indeed, when two thirds of the matter in most of these reports are gathered and furnished by other officers of the system. If one half the time and money spent in getting up these reports were spent in informing the people of their duties and privileges, we think the plan of the home folks would be far more refreshing.

Another, and perhaps the leading cause is the ignorance of the people in regard to school matters. I have mentioned this before, but there cannot be too much stress laid upon this point. It is a deplorable fact that there is so little interest taken by the people that a large majority of them never saw the inside of their school-house; many of them could not describe the house or its location. Now there is an easy remedy for all this. Let our officers take the matter in hand, let them begin now to discharge their long neglected duties; leave your haunts in the cities and towns, come into the country and mingle with those who have elevated you to your position, make appointments and address the people on the greatest question now before them; if you cannot speak, get others who can, and you talk. You could talk when you wanted the office, why not now? The people will welcome you, will listen to you, and if you show that you are interested, they will catch the inspiration and a new era will dawn upon our school system. Who will be the first to move in this matter. Oh that the energy and talent now lying dormant may be aroused and put into action.

MORE AXON.

SWITZER.

George Carter and family returned from Illinois Thursday evening. Rev. William Axon preached to a large congregation Sunday at North Fork.

The protracted meeting closed Wednesday night with six additions to the Church.

Miss Minnie Stafford, who has been visiting in our village, returned home last Sunday. Mr. Samuel Thomason and wife gave an elegant dinner on last Tuesday in honor of the fortieth anniversary of their wedding day, and of the twenty-first birthday of their youngest son, Robert. The event was a grand success and will long be remembered in the hearts of the family reunited, the only regret being that one or two had made their homes in distant States and could not be with them. Mr. Thomason and wife, though quite past the meridian of life, are in perfect health and we hope will live to enjoy many returns of the day.

PIANOS AND ORGANS! --- EASY TERMS!

In buying a Piano or Organ many persons have the idea that they must pay all cash. There are thousands of families who have an income of fifty to one hundred dollars per month, who can easily spare from five to ten dollars of it and scarcely miss it. To all such we would say, do not wait to lay up enough to pay for an instrument before buying, but see or write us at once for our terms. We will satisfy you that we are giving easier terms than any Music House in the United States.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JULY 26, 1884.

The dam at Lock No. 4, below this city, is leaking badly, and the water has run out of this pool so that the Hornet is compelled to land below the Lock. The leak is thought to be where the old mill race passed through the dam and Col. Sublett has a force of hands busily engaged in stopping it.

The specifications under which contracts are let for broken stone to be spread upon the streets call for rock broken so small that they will pass through a two-inch ring. An examination of the stone recently spread upon Main street will reveal the fact that many of them will not pass through a six-inch ring, while a large portion are about four inches square. The Street Commissioner should look into the matter.

During the Democratic ratification Saturday night Mr. John Henderson was riding up Main street, when the horse took fright at the music of the brass band and started to run. In front of Marshall & Meagher's he ran into some fishing poles which made such a racket that it frightened him worse and he began to run in earnest. In passing Ellwanger's a fruit stand on the edge of the pavement was upset, a burning torch attached to the stand got caught in the harness and was carried along with him for some distance. Mr. Henderson held on to the reins manfully and attempted to hold the frightened animal down, but he continued to run until he reached the foot of the hill at the head of the street, when Mr. Henderson put whip to him and he was soon willing to stand. Being crippled Mr. H. could not have left the wagon had he desired to do so, and he very fortunately escaped injury.

A sad accident occurred in Belle Point Saturday evening by which one of the most quiet and highly respected citizens of that place, Mr. John H. Wright, lost his life. In company with three other bricklayers he was returning from work at the Old Crow Distillery in a spring wagon, and in crossing the Railroad bridge the horse they were driving became frightened at a hand-car. Ollie Patterson, an old colored man who happened to be near, grasped the bridle and led the horse a short distance, but just as he released his hold the bridge-keeper rang the alarm bell, which started the horse again and he ran rapidly down to the bridge across Bason. The driver lost his hold on one of the reins and Mr. Wright attempted to jump out of the wagon. In doing so he was thrown upon his head and the back of his skull crushed in. He was taken up and carried to his home on Front street, where he died in about an hour after.

The deceased leaves a widow and three children—Rev. J. E. Wright, of Georgetown, Mr. J. Wesley Wright, of the Yeoman office, and Mrs. Wm. O. Parker—who are completely crushed by this sudden and heavy affliction. The funeral took place from the Methodist church Monday morning and was largely attended.

Death of Hon. H. M. Bedford.

Hon. Hillary M. Bedford, a prominent and highly respected citizen of this county, died suddenly at his residence near the Forks of Elkhorn, Monday morning about 10 o'clock. He had been in feeble health for some time, but was able to go about the house, and until a few days before rode out every morning. He was born in Bourbon county in 1802 and was consequently in his 82d year. He removed to this county in 1849 and has resided ever since upon the place where he died. He represented this county in the Legislature of 1863-'4, and few citizens of this county were more universally popular than he. He was a good neighbor, a kind-hearted, jovial gentleman, whose loss is deeply lamented by all who knew him. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from Providence Baptist Church, of which he had been a member since its organization, and was largely attended by his friends and neighbors.

Base Ball.

The Belle Point Reds went to Lexington Monday and had the stuff knocked out of them by the Inland Reds of that city, the score standing 27 to 3 in favor of the Lexington boys.

The game between the Capital and Elkhorn Clubs Saturday resulted in a score of 28 to 9 in favor of former.

The name of the White Halls has been changed to the Capital.

The second game between St. Clair and Main street nines Friday afternoon was indeed a Waterloo for the latter. The score standing 22 to 8 at the close of the game.

The Lettelles, of Louisville, came up Tuesday and played a game at Lake Park with the Capital in the afternoon. The game started out very well and promised to be a very pretty one, but in the third inning the visitors got on to the delivery of Buttmer and pounded him unmercifully. By heavy batting and errors of the home team they piled up ten scores, but in the next inning Harper was put in to pitch and the Louisville boys were permitted to make but one score afterwards. The home team had an uphill time of it after that, but by heavy batting they crawled up rapidly, and when the game closed they had run ahead, and came out victorious, the score standing 16 to 12 in their favor.

The Louisville boys were badly used up in the game. In running the bases Frank Buttmer ran into the second baseman, knocked him down, cut his lip and forehead, and he lay on the ground senseless for several minutes. He was too badly hurt to play for several innings and a substitute had to be put in his place. The catcher had his hand badly hurt and another had his leg cut. They play well and our boys can feel proud of their victory.

Lexington's professional nine came down Thursday and played the Capitals at Lake Park. The game was one of the best contested and most interesting ever played on the grounds, and although the home club were defeated they can well be proud of their work. The visitors could do but little with Buttmer's delivery, and, with a few exceptions, he was well supported in the field. But few balls were knocked out of the diamond and only two of them were caught on the fly by the out fielders. The first base play of Gaskin was faultless, not a single ball being allowed to pass him, and although some were hard to stop, the runner never failed to die at first when it depended upon his exertions. The Capitals were deficient in base running and but for that fault the game would have been theirs. They led the visitors up to the fifth inning 5 to 1, when, by hard hitting and errors, the score was tied. From that time till the close it was anybody's game, the score standing 8 to 6 at the end of the ninth inning, in favor of Lexington.

Personal.

Miss Ellen Carey, of Louisville, who has been visiting Mrs. H. Howe Watson the past week, will return home this afternoon.

Mrs. M. R. Waybs, who has been very ill with inflammatory rheumatism for the past five weeks, is improving slowly.

Rev. J. M. Lewis left Wednesday evening for Ashland to attend a meeting of the Broken Baptist Association at that place.

Rev. George Darsie leaves Monday for Colorado to spend his summer vacation with relatives. He will be absent about six weeks.

Miss Annie Middleton, of Louisville, who has been visiting Mrs. John T. Gray at Buhr's Hotel for several weeks, left for home Tuesday morning.

Judge W. H. Sneed and wife, Misses Sallie Sneed and Julia Duvall and Mr. George L. Duvall of this city, have been spending the week at Oak orchard Springs.

Misses Sue Gheslin, Sue Bush, Mary Scott, Annie South, Mr. Lee Herrmann and wife, and Mr. Alex Julian left Monday morning for Lexington to join the excursion party to Old Point Comfort.

Strayed or Stolen.

A small show struck the city Wednesday and set up its tent on the vacant lot at the corner of Second and Steele streets. The giant baby and his pet birds, monkeys and alligators are the great attractions.

Capt. Sam. M. Swigert is now stationed at Fort Walla Walla, Washington Territory, nine hundred miles from his former post, Fort Custer, Montana, and he expresses himself well pleased with the change.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the Fair of the Anderson, Franklin and Salvisa A. & M. Association, which takes place at Lawrenceburg on the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d of August.

A former prominent judge, who has passed many a sentence of imprisonment for life and shorter periods, was locked up in the work-house and fined five dollars for being drunk and disorderly down in Craw Tuesday afternoon. "How have the mighty fallen."

The mill of Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co., in Kansas City, Missouri, was destroyed by fire on Friday morning of last week. The many friends of Mr. Gaines will regret to hear of his loss, but we are glad to be able to state that the establishment was fully insured.

Mr. M. T. Lefever, lineman of the East Tennessee Telephone Company, was engaged in repairing the line between this city and Lawrenceburg, near Farndale, Saturday, when in cutting a tight wire he was thrown from the top of a pole to the ground, some thirty feet, had two of his ribs broken, and it was feared injured himself internally. He is getting along very well now and it is hoped he will soon be out again.

A horse attached to the phaeton of Mr. Thos. Rodman, Jr., while standing in front of his residence on Shelby street, Tuesday afternoon, took fright and ran up the street. When in front of the residence of Mr. Warren, on the corner of Third, he ran into the yard fence, tore a lot of pickets off, and before he got free of the debris Miss Kittle Warren ran out, caught the bridle and held him until he became quiet.

Messrs. Howard Bros. came to this city last fall and opened a small confectionery at 41 St. Clair street, and by close attention to business and by push and energy rapidly built up a good trade, which now has grown to such proportions that several clerks are kept busy waiting upon customers. The junior member of the firm, Mr. Fred. Howard, concluded the first of the week that business was so good that another partner was necessary in the house, and took the train for Dayton, Ohio, was married in that city Tuesday morning to Miss Nettie Atkins, of that place, returned here Tuesday evening and was at his post behind the counter Wednesday morning, receiving the congratulations of his friends.
